GPS Insight tailors solutions to your fleet

GPS Insight understands that every professional pest management fleet has different challenges and needs, and its global positioning satellite (GPS) tracking solutions were built with that in mind. By providing flexible GPS tracking solutions that are tailored to your business, the company gives you the information you need to oversee fleet operations and ultimately reduce costs, reduce risk and increase revenue.

Rob Donat

Using GPS Insight, you can expect to save big money on fuel and labor costs, improve fleet safety with insight to driver behavior, and enhance dispatching with real-time location and status updates, the company says. You'll also make your customers happy with accurate estimated times of arrival (ETAs), proof of service and quick emergency response.

"Speeding is down. Accidents are down. Total mileage per service is down. Gas expense is down," reports Scott Gneiting, owner of Bug Pro Pest Control, Newport Beach, Calif. "I am happy to recommend them to anyone!"

Fred Willey, president of Glendale, Ariz.-based Invader Pest Management, agrees: "It has paid for itself. I don't have a problem paying for it each month, because without it, I know our costs would be a lot more."
